FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY MARKET.

SUNDAY, Jan. 16-6 P. M. Throughout the week just closed the stock market has been moderately buoyant. From day to day the transactions were to about the same extentand prices in several stocks have been steadily working upward. All the coal stocks, Morris Canal, New Jersey Zinc, Long Island, and Cary Land Company. have been in demand, and higher prices ruled at the close yesterday than at the opening on Monday last. There is no particular movement in any leading fancy. The bulls have taken hold of Long Island with a good deal of spirit, but prices have not as yet become much inflated. The recent decline in this stock has not yet been forgotten by speculators, and it will be difficult to get up much of a corner again. Morris Canal was quite active at the first board yesterday, and buyers are evidently quietly getting all the shorts they can. The bears do not seem at all under the impression that this stock can go much beyond present prices, and the probability is that the shorts will get caught before they are aware of it. The coal stocks are in good hands These are steadily increasing in market value, without any great speculative excitement, which is a guaranty that the improvement will be more perma-

At the close of the second board vesterday, there was an active demand for the stock of the Phoenix Coal Company. There were sales at forty-two per cent for cash, and considerable stock changed hands at that price. Within the past few days orders to some extent have been received from Boston and other cities, and the stock is rapidly becoming distributed. The immense landed property of the company, in the very centre of the great Cumberland coal region, in the Westernport district, has become enormously valuable by the recent discoveries of new coal veins, and public attention has therefore been turned more parti cularly to the development of its resources. As this fact becomes known, and the working of the principal fourteen feet vein progresses, holders of the stock will without doubt, raise their prices to points full as high as other companies command. We can form some idea of the great value of the twenty-two thousand acres of coal land belonging to this company, from the fact that sales have recently been made in its immedia e vicinity at prices ranging from $300 to $500 per acre. The single vein which has already been opened, upon which miners are now at work, is estimated by experienced engineers to contain eleven millions of tons on a tract of five hundred acres of land known as Pleasant Hill. This is but a small portion of the coal property of the company. The supply of coal from these mines is only limited by e ability of the railroads and canal to get to market. We are afraid the absence of cars and canal boatwill keep back a great deal of Cumberland coal; but the Phenix Company have already perfected such arrangements as will secure the transportation of at least two hundred thousand tons during the present

The exportation of specie from this port during the past week was as annexed:-

Total, Jan. 8 to Jan. 15. $474.113
Previously reported. 55,046 Total for 1853..... $529,159

The Humboldt took out a larger amount than anticipated. Thus far, the exportation this month has been quite limited, compared with the corresponding period in January last year.

The Philadelphia and Lançaster Turnpike Com. pany have declared a dividend of two dollars a share. The Kensington Gas Company have declared a semiannual dividend of five per cent. The Little Schuyl kill Navigation Railroad and Coal Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent. The Bank of the Northern Liberties has declared an extra dividend of seven and a half per cent; the stockholders are notified to pay the ninth instalment of five dollars per share, on or before the first proximo. The Farmers' Bank of Kentucky has declared a dividead of five per cent. The Cleveland, Painesville and Ashtabula Railroad Company have made a dividend to those holding stock on the first day of January, 1853, as follows:-three per cent interest and six per cent in scrip on full stock for the past six months, and pro rata on other stock for the time it has been paid. This dividend of nine per cent will leave $25,-

The Perpetual Insurance Company of St. Louis has declared an annual dividend of 35 per cent. The Marine Insurance Company, of the same city, has declared an annual dividend of 55 per cent. Massachusetts Cotton Mills four per cent, semi annual. Hamilton Woollen Manufacturing Company, three per cent, payable on demand.

The annexed statement exhibits the quantity and value of foreign merchandise, other than dry goods, imported into this district, during the week ending

There has been more activity in the dry goods trade than is usual at this season, and it is fortunate that such has been the case. The immense importations, otherwise, would have borne heavy on importers. The large receipts of the past two weeks have filled up stocks, without any influence on prices being visible. There is no doubt but that we are about entering upon a business season of an unprecedented character, both in regard to extent and general prosperity and productiveness.

The Cumberland Telegraph says the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is in good navigable order. On Wednesday they had a fall of snow, but the ground was too wet for it to lay any length of time. For the week ending Wednesday noon, fifteen boats had departed, laden with 1,519 4-20 tons of coal and 80 15-20 tons of coke. During the week ending the 8th instant, 3,605 tons of coal were transported over the Mount Savage Railroad, and 3,428 tons over the read of the Cumberland Coal and Iron Com

The annual report of the Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad Company presents the annexed gross amount of earnings on the roads worked by its machinery during the past year:-

Wrightsville, York and Gettysburg Railroad. 40,904 59
York and Cumberland Railroad. 47,826 14

-which, compared with the revenues of these roads last year, shows an increase between Baltimore and York of $23,365 19; between York and Harrisburg, $27,611 91; Hanover Junction, $2,042 42; and a decrease between York and Wrightsville of $1,503 80. The expenditures of the company, on account of transportation, for the year ending the 30th September, 1852, was $261,137 58-being an increase of $67.719 30 over the amount expended the previous year. The increased expenditure has been on account of repairs to track and bridges, and the introduction of heavier motive power in the transportation department, to meet the increased business offering. Notwithstanding the expenditures of the past year, there has been paid to the Treasurer of Maryland, during the fiscal year of the company, $78,230 68, of which $60,000 was in the fiscal year of the State. Since the close of the company's fiscal year, a further payment has been made to the Treasurer of Maryland of $25,000.

It will be seen by this that the amount of specie on hand compares very favorably with the amount of circulation; but the bill holder has no guaranty that this specie would be available, in an emergency, to redeem the paper promises. We are opposed to every system of banking that extends the basis of the circulation to the manufacturers and issuers of bank bills. There is in this no security, for every dollar of specie in any bank in the country could be put out of the way of its creditors between two days. We have known many such cases. The only way to secure the bill holders beyond all contingencies is to place the means for the redemption of bank issues in the hands of responsible State officers, beyond the reach or control of any one but those holding the banks promises to pay. Several efforts have been made in the Legislature of Pennsylvania to adopt a free banking law, similar to that in operation in this and several other States, but so far they have been unsuccessful. We have hopes, however, that its friends will yet accomplish the object they have in view, and that the people of Pennsylvania will yet rejoice in the establishment of a more perfect banking system than they have now. The old banking systems are rapidly giving way, and the stock security system taking their place. There is no doubt but that in some of the free banking systems now in operation there are many defects, which in time of distrust may prove disastrous; but improvements will be made as weak points are discovered, and, ultimately, as near perfection will be reached as possible. About one half of the States in the Union have adopted the free banking, or stock security system, and the paper currency of the country is now better than ever before known. We trust the people of Pennsylvania will get their eyes open before it is too late.
